FORT HAYS KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

THE REVEILLE with the compliments of
FORT HAYS
KANSAS STATE COLLEGE
M. C. Cunningham, President

Fort Hays Kansas State College

On June 23, 1902, Fort Hays Kansas State College held its first classes in buildings on historic old Fort Hays. The Military Reservation was divided into three parts—as a state college, as an agricultural experiment station, and as a state park. The land assigned to the college totalled 4,160 acres. The campus proper consists of about 80 acres.

From its beginning with 34 students, 2 faculty members, and 19 courses, Fort Hays State College has increased to more than 2,300 students, more than 125 faculty members, and more than 700 courses.

A spirited building program is exemplified in the Applied Arts Building, new dormitories for men and women, and the Memorial Student Union Building.

The Hays area and old Fort Hays is rich in tradition of the West. Fort Hays was a last outpost for General G. A. Custer before his fate in the Wyoming hills. Custer Hall, freshman women's dormitory on the campus, is named after Mrs. George Custer, also a resident at the Fort for a time.

Fort Hays State is rich in tradition—it carries this spirit with it in progress forward.

FORT HAYS
KANSAS
MEMORIAL UNION

Time does not stand still. All across the campus the scene is changing. Change is progress. Leaves turn gold and brown to leave the trees bare and ready for new leaves. The seasons proceed as campus life is moving always into the future, leaving the past behind but not forgotten.

Symbolic of progress at Fort Hays State this year is the construction of the Memorial Union building, long a cherished dream, now a reality, ready for the students upon their return to the campus in the fall.

On these pages, the Reveille staff has tried to capture the stages of progress as the year has come and gone and the building has progressed from the turning of the first spadeful of earth to the skeletal structure to the outward completion of the building.

The doors are closed. The story of progress is not complete until the furniture is placed, the draperies hung, and the coffee pots filled. When Fort Hays Staters return in September for enrollment, the doors will be open. The best is ahead, for you, for Fort Hays State.

THE STAFF

Picken Hall

Social Building

Rarick Hall

Built on historical land, the campus is part of the old Fort Hays military reservation. The military post was abandoned in 1889. In 1900 Congress granted land for use as a state school and an experiment station for agriculture. Due to controversies in land titles the college was not started until 1902. The old fort hospital served as the first building until 1903 when Picken Hall was provided. Here the campus was born.

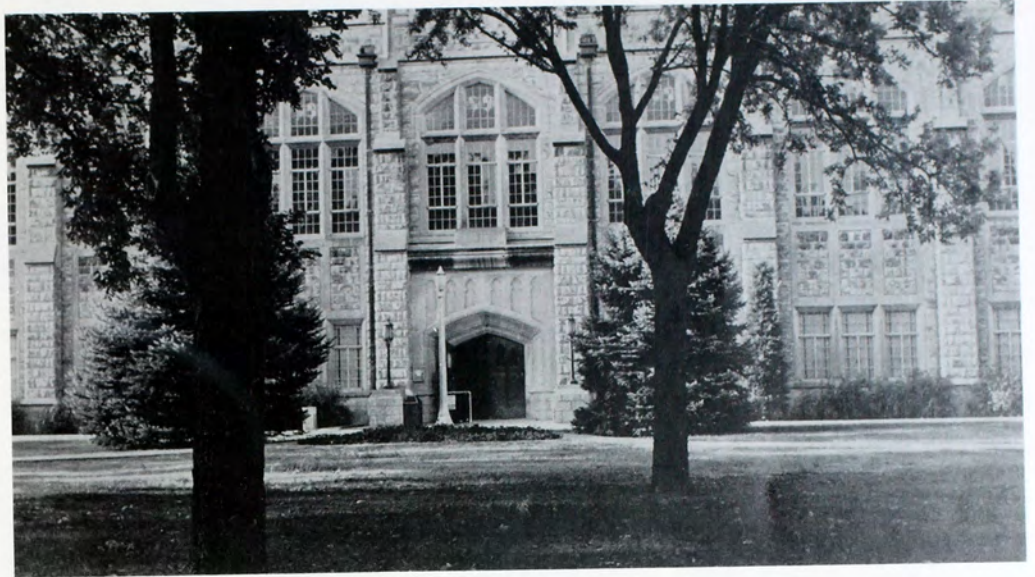

Sheridan Coliseum

Development moved ahead during the depression and the pre-war period carrying Fort Hays State toward its goals. Around the quadrangle progress continued.

Fort Hays Kansas State College
Hays, Kansas

Office of the President

May 1, 1958

Dear Fort Hays Staters:

Any college yearbook holds many memories. It is a story, in picture, or the many things it takes to make up a college--the buildings and grounds, the students and faculty, and the activities of the many groups.

Each of you has played a role all your own and each has made a contribution toward making this a wonderful year. You have helped the editors publish this REVEILLE by being a Fort Hays Stater and participating in college life on this campus. You have spent a precious year here seeking the truth in whatever field you have studied and it is up to you and the other students like you on other college and university campuses to succeed in the larger task of assuming the responsibility of intellectual leadership in the years ahead.

We are living at a time in the life of our nation when action on social, economic, spiritual and political issues is becoming more and more necessary to our very existence. I am proud of the leadership and stamina you have displayed and I am happy to have been associated with you. I have faith in your ability to make a happy and successful life for yourself and those around you and I wish the best for each of you.

Most sincerely,

M. C. Cunningham

The Honors Program is a plan of special provisions for juniors and seniors of outstanding intellectual ability. A student must have a record of outstanding achievement in several subject fields besides his major interest. High grades alone, however, are not sufficient qualification.

Emphasis is given to consideration of the great ideas and issues which confront mankind in the search for truth and values, rather than to the assimilation of subject matter.

The attitude toward the Honors Program may be summed up by noting that an invitation to participate is the highest academic privilege that a college can bestow.

HONORARY AMBASSADORS OF GOOD-WILL

This fall a large group of student leaders met to select approximately 240 ambassadors from towns or communities represented at Fort Hays State. Through the years the program has acquainted many individuals with the college and brought many students to the campus.

These honorary ambassadors of good-will have acquainted themselves with Fort Hays' program of study and activities and made contact with high school students during the spring semester and summer. They worked in various ways to encourage and influence attendance at Fort Hays. Enlisting the help of other Fort Hays Staters, groups gathered during weekends, Christmas, Easter and semester vacation, spoke at local high school assemblies and approached the students in a friendly, informal manner.

DEBATE

For those who are interested in debate or forensics, there is the Debate Squad. The squad, which is usually comprised of students who are interested in the speech field, is a course which helps the student in many ways.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis is organized for all students interested in the dance. The class can be taken for either activity credit or as a high numbered physical education course. The members plan and participate in dance programs of all types. Orchesis' purpose is to develop a creative and intellectual attitude toward dancing as one of the arts.

Activity organizations are the outgrowth of the classroom, the breaking down into interest groups as a result of study and preparation. Back of these organizations is the college . . . more than simply buildings, laboratories, offices and classrooms, more than just students who every day put life into these buildings, more than instructors, passing on knowledge acquired through years of study, more than administration coordinating all activities into a smoothly functioning institution.

Above these material ingredients of college is an intangible spirit of desire, a quest for knowledge and a spirit of pride in the school which increases as the student progresses from freshman to senior . . . from study to class, to laboratory, to activity, then to practical use.

Head Coach Wayne J. McConnell completed his second year as Tiger football mentor with an even won-4 lost-4 record. He took over the reins of Fort Hays football and it is certain that the Bengals will again be a football power in the near future.

During a season plagued with game cancellations and postponements as well as numerous player injuries the 4-4 record is a great deal more than it appears.

The C.I.C. conference, traditionally tough in football, was especially powerful during the 1957 season. The championship Gorillas of Pittsburg State College were selected as one of the best small-college teams in the country and their coach was named "Small college coach of the year."

Tiger guard, Dennis Stegman, Ness City Junior, was named to the C.I.C. all-conference team and teammates Leroy Brungardt and Chuck Vernon were awarded second team honors.

Acting head basketball coach, Wayne McConnell, head coach Cade Suran, and athletic director "Busch" Gross discuss future basketball prospects at Fort Hays.

After piloting the Tigers through the first two games of the 1957-58 season, illness forced coach Cade Suran to turn over the reins of the Fort Hays cagers to head football coach, Wayne McConnell. Mr. McConnell guided the Fort Hays five through the remaining 17 game schedule against such midwestern cage powers as: St. Benedict's and Emporia State College.

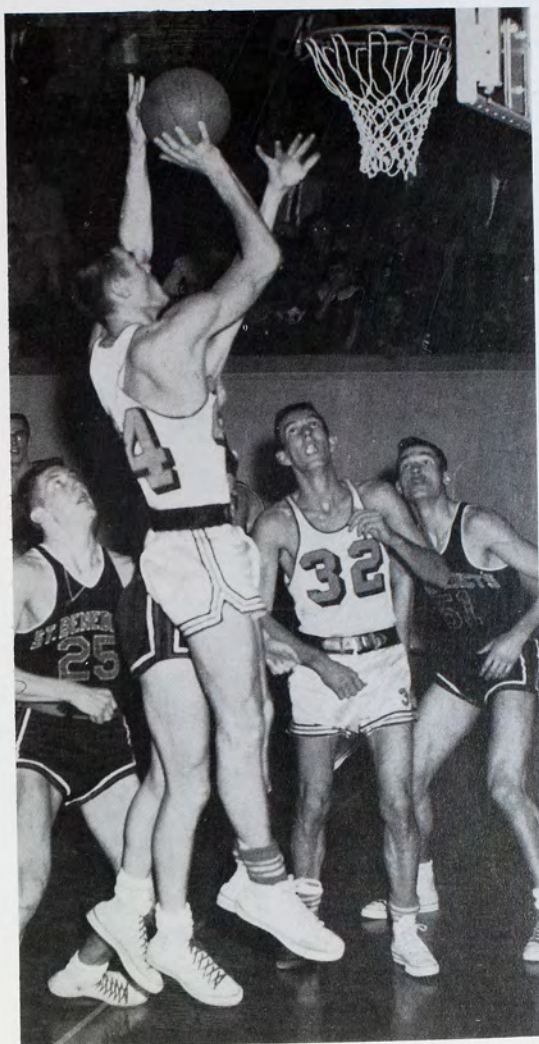

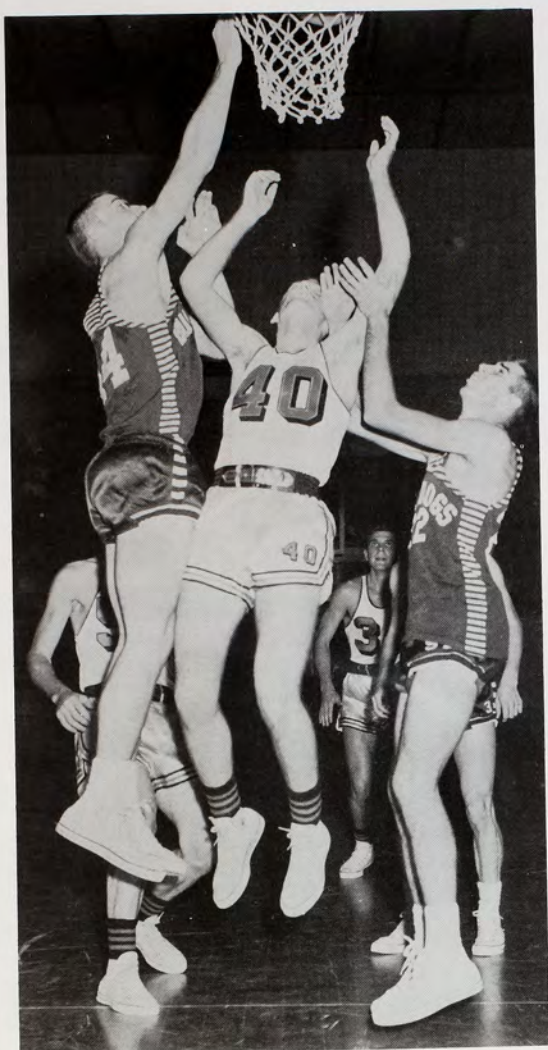

Suran will return as active basketball coach for the 1958-59 season. Up to the present time, the teams of coach Cade Suran, have won 164 of the 259 games played for a creditable percentage of nearly 70%. His Tiger team of 1950 won the C.I.C. and last season Gary Panter was awarded the C.I.C. scoring crown and was named to the all-conference team.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

Fort Hays State Tigers were off to a slow start in the 1957-58 campaign. They dropped their first two games to Southwestern College, 76-61, and North Dakota University, 61-68.

The Tigers roared back to sweep a two-game road trip defeating Colorado College, 50-48, and Colorado State College, 78-72. The Hays five then swamped a powerful Phillips University squad, 99-65, before an enthusiastic crowd in the Coliseum. Southwestern Oklahoma was the next Fort Hays foe falling 72-66. The winning streak continued to gain momentum with wins over Colorado State College, 71-62, and a smashing 75-68 victory over the Emporia State Hornets.

Omaha University snapped a four-game winning streak with a 61-62 upset. Injury took its toll of the valiant Bengals as they dropped two games to St. Benedict's College and two more of Pittsburg State College. Washburn University squeezed by the Hays crew, 77-73 and 75-69, in two closely contested games. Emporia State College gained revenge for the earlier defeat with a 65-76 victory.

The men of Coach McConnell proved themselves a fast starting ball club as they were almost always on top at half time, but with a lack of experience and depth they faded in the closing minutes.

Southwestern College administered the final defeat of the 1957-58 season, 76-65, to leave the Tigers in last place in the Conference.

Coach Alex Francis and the eight cross-country runners were a credit to Fort Hays State in their second season in varsity competition, placing second at the Oklahoma State University competition and defeating Nebraska State Teachers College, 21-34 in a dual meet. Among the four returning lettermen was senior speedster, Bill Dunlap. Dunlap, one of the finest runners ever to attend Fort Hays State, placed second in the Oklahoma meet, third place in the N.A.I.A. meet at Omaha, and won top honors against Kearney, Nebraska, and the C.I.C. conference race held at Hays.

Co-ordination between Greek fraternities is the purpose of the Interfraternity Council. Members of the Council are representatives from each social fraternity. The Council provides a service to the school by regulating and co-ordinating useful projects between the social fraternities. Scholarship is promoted by awarding, each spring, a trophy to the fraternity with the highest grade average. Pat O'Brien served as president of the Council this year.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Panhellenic Council seeks to promote unification among social sororities. Representatives from each sorority compose the Council. Each semester Panhellenic Council awards, as an incentive to better grades, a scholarship shield to the sorority with the highest, percentage-wise, grade point. In conjunction with I.F.C., the Council also sponsors the All-Greek sing, at which trophies are given for the best Greek musical renditions. Serving as president this year was Rita Basgall.

PROGRESSION OF THE YEAR

All people whose names begin with . . .

Summer heat begins to break . . . black and gold beanies dot the campus for the start of another college year. The dorms are infested with room-seeking students . . . Hopeful politicians fling handbills in hopes of getting "that one last vote" . . . After enrollment, students settle into the routine of classes . . . It's fall . . .
Fort Hays State.

"Square your beanie, freshman," upperclassmen; Dick Fisher, Stan Kobler and Glen Wilkens, admonish Marla O'Halloran.

Ralph Moon sighed as he signed his name for the 39th time.
Result: out of 1900 x-rays taken, not a single active case was found.

Opening the social calendar for the entire student body at Fort Hays State is a "Hello" dance.

Chatting over a plate of food with a faculty member at the student-faculty picnic, a Fort Hays Stater realizes that he is a "Real College Man", not just enrollee number 999.

Dancing dreamily to "Laura" Fort Hays Staters end an eventful first week with a Tiger Hop.

The confusion of enrollment is over . . . the Social Building begins to overflow with the usual population . . . Some new faces appear through the smoke and pitch players . . . old friendships are renewed . . . Pep rallies set the pace for football . . . Fall has come to the Fort Hays State campus.

A quick change to hat, hose and heels in the middle of the day is on the agenda as these freshman girls attend the faculty women's tea.

The revamped Billy May Band under the direction of Sam Donahue provides danceable melodies for Fort Hays Staters.

The All-Greek Formal opens the social season for more than 400 sorority and fraternity members as they dance to the music of Dave Emery and the Starlighters.

An autumn theme was adopted by Panhellenic Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council who sponsored the formal on September 28.

PARENTS DAY

Parents Day is a big event as students escort their families around the campus. After being welcomed to the campus by President Cunningham at a short program, a parade of 36 high school bands opens the festivities. The climax of the day is reached at the football game with Southwest Oklahoma, where parents and high school bands are guests of the college.

Bill Weis welcomes his parents to Fort Hays State.

The talents of Raymond Massey, Agnes Moorehead, and Martin Gabel bring alive the historical Lincoln-Douglas debates in the Paul Gregory production, "The Rivalry," an original drama by Norman Corwin.

"May I have your autograph, Miss Moorehead?"

MEDEA

Phil Weber as "Jason" and Charlene Goetz as "Medea" in the lead roles of "Medea."

The Picken Players on November 11 and 12 present a modern adaptation of an ancient Greek tragedy "Medea" which is considered one of the great plays of all ages.

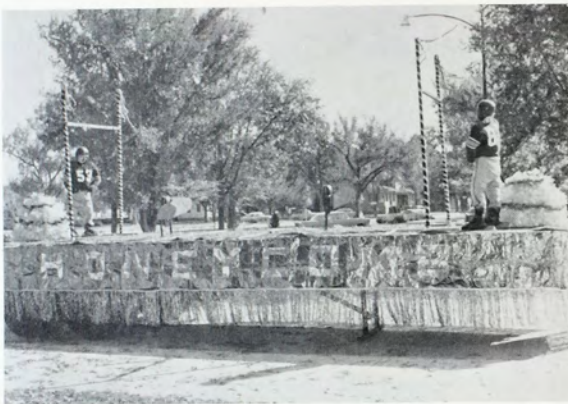

The entire cast of "Medea" includes M. Bender, C. Baker, N. Housholder, B. Craine, E. Craine, P. Weber, C. Goetz, G. Paustian, S. Ligon, E. Jewett, and J. Tribble.

HOMECOMING

"Honeycomb"

"In the Middle of the Island"

Fort Hays can "Can Can".

It is the eleventh hour, and everyone is rushing to finish floats and house decorations. Much sleep is lost, and spirits are gay as preparation for Homecoming progresses. Alumni plan eagerly to return to their alma mater for the big event. Plans are being completed for a fun-filled week-end when "flash", the news hits the campus! The Homecoming festivities, barbecue, parade, and football game are cancelled.

Residence Hall and Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority display their floats and house decorations which were completed before Homecoming was cancelled.

At Homecoming

TRASH

The "flu bug" reigns as the real queen of the 1957 Homecoming, and "flu bugs" aren't especially fitted for the role of queen.

Communication channels are set up to notify alumni, friends, and parents of the cancellation. Nevertheless, many students and alumni attend the dance planned for the Homecoming that wasn't.

Homecoming nominees, Pat Neill, Norma Boyd, Roberta Rupp, LaVon Wilson, Mary Motzner, and Peg Gibson, pose for the photographer.

The Bobby Mills band provides the sweet and mellow for the Homecoming dance.

At the dance, the only Homecoming activity not cancelled, Sherla Bizek reigns as queen attended by Kay Tucker and Suzanne Miller.

Homecoming royalty is chosen by the vote of the student body. Candidates nominated by petition also included Pat Neill, Norma Boyd, Roberta Rupp, LaVon Wilson, Mary Motzner and Peg Gibson.

Dean McCartney crowns Sherla Bizek, Queen of the Homecoming that wasn't, as princesses Suzanne Miller and Kay Tucker look on.

Princesses Suzanne Miller and Kay Tucker smile prettily for the photographer.

Stars of "Oklahoma," C. Bowman, N. Fink, R. Rothenberger, M. Bowman, J. Stafford and J. Haney, greet us from the surrey.

The Broadway musical "Oklahoma" is presented November 21 and 22 by the Choir under direction of Donald Stout, assistant professor of music.

"Who me—marry Ado Annie?", Jerry Koeppen, "Ali Hakim," says to Monte Seibel, "Andrew Kearns," while Nancy Fink, "Ado Annie", looks on.

Jeanette Goransson, Mary Ellen Clark, Donna Heinze, Sidney Harper, Judy Lewis and Nelmarie Epperley in a dance routine.

OKLAHOMA

Chuck Bowman, "Will Parker," greets Nancy Fink, "Ado Annie," with an Oklahoma Hello."

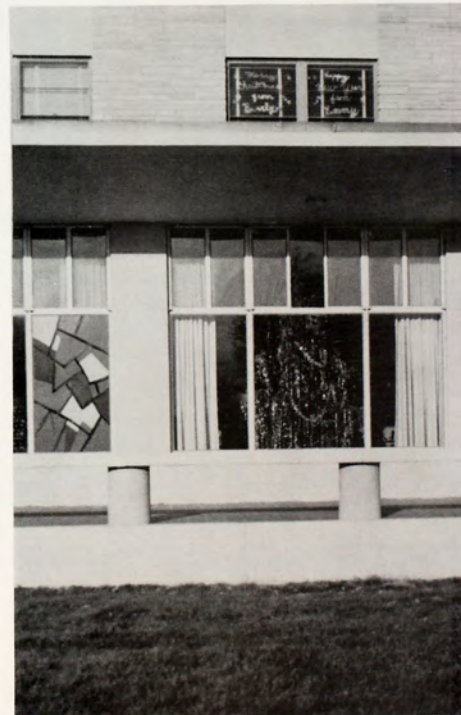

"Laurie," Marilyn Bowman, shows "Will Parker," Chuck Bowman, the bottle of "Elixir of Egypt" she bought from the peddler, Ali Hakim.

"The Farmer and the Cowhand Should Be Friends."

"Many a New Day"

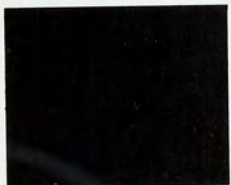

The windows of Agnew Hall are transformed with compliments of the Department of Art.

WINTER

Football hits with full force . . .
 Coats and jackets come out of mothballs . . . Trees on campus lose their dress of brown and gold . . .
 A cup of hot coffee at the Social Building becomes even more important as we avoid wind and cold . . .
 It's cold out . . . It's winter.

Those who frequent Custer Hall are greeted by these joyous Christmas scenes.

One of the highlights of the Reveille Ball is the grand march.

A festive air prevails in the Social Building.

Up on the rooftop the Brass Choir harmonizes for the Christmas season.

The Honorable George Docking, governor of the state of Kansas, crowns Janice Westerman Queen of the Reville Ball.

Master of Ceremonies Harold Stones reads the letter announcing Mr. Whitcomb's choice of Reville royalty before Governor Docking invests Janice Westerman with the royal crown. Miss Westerman is presented a lavish bouquet of American Beauty roses and a trophy topped with the winged victory. The queen's two princesses, Carolyn Oller and Ramona Miller, also receive trophies.

Smiling graciously, Queen Janice accepts her presentation bouquet from Diedra Burandt, Reville Editor, as Deanna Lockman looks on.

Revealed for the first time to the student body, the 1958 Reville cover is spotlighted on the stage.

Princesses Carolyn Oller and Ramona Miller receive their trophies from Deanna Lockman, assistant editor.

REVILLE BALL

Pageantry surrounds "Queen Janice" . . . the biggest thrill of all . . . Reveille Queen . . . and the night belongs to her . . . she is swept through the dance and the coronation before she has time to realize what has happened . . . It is a once in a lifetime affair for the college coed . . . and things are planned so she won't soon forget.

The Teen Timers featured by Dave Emery and his band create interest at the Reveille Ball for 230 dancing couples.

After the Coronation, the Governor and Mrs. Docking, the queen and her court lead the grand march.

Jon Whitcomb, prominent magazine illustrator, selects the 1958 Reveille Queen and Princesses from seven lovely coeds nominated by men's organizations on the campus.

Carolyn Oller, Dorothy Nuss, Marilyn Behnke, Ronnie Cook, Ramona Miller, Marla O'Halloran, and Janice Westerman anxiously await the opening of Mr. Whitcomb's letter.

The Alpha Mu club members smile happily as their club becomes a chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma national sorority. The big weekend of reactivation includes a formal tea, banquet, initiation services for the chapter, officer training, and Sunday brunch. The activities are highlighted by a visit from national and district officers and alumni.

THE "PI KAPS" GO NATIONAL

For the first time in five years Fort Hays State was represented in the finals of the debate tournament at Winfield, Kansas. The placing team, Warren Norton and Wendall Anschutz, had a record of 4 wins and 1 loss in the Junior Men's division and were defeated by the team that won the tournament.

At the debate tournament at McPherson, Kansas, another Fort Hays State team, Larry Kopke and Richard Schmidt, were defeated in 4 rounds of the 40-team tournament.

CHRISTMAS

B. Stutterheim, J. Saunders, and E. Blauer add to the spirit of Christmas as they play carols from the top of the Methodist Church prior to Christmas Vespers.

The students and faculty participating in the Christmas Vespers sound forth musical tribute to the season.

It's not winter and it's not summer, it is simply and wonderfully Christmas. A festive air reigns at the Social Building.

A surprise Christmas party for President and Mrs. Cunningham was planned by the Social Committee.

Campus organizations signed cards to decorate the Christmas tree which is presented to the Cunninghams.

Also the Committee surprises Mrs. Cunningham with a lovely birthday cake.

"O come all ye faithful,—"

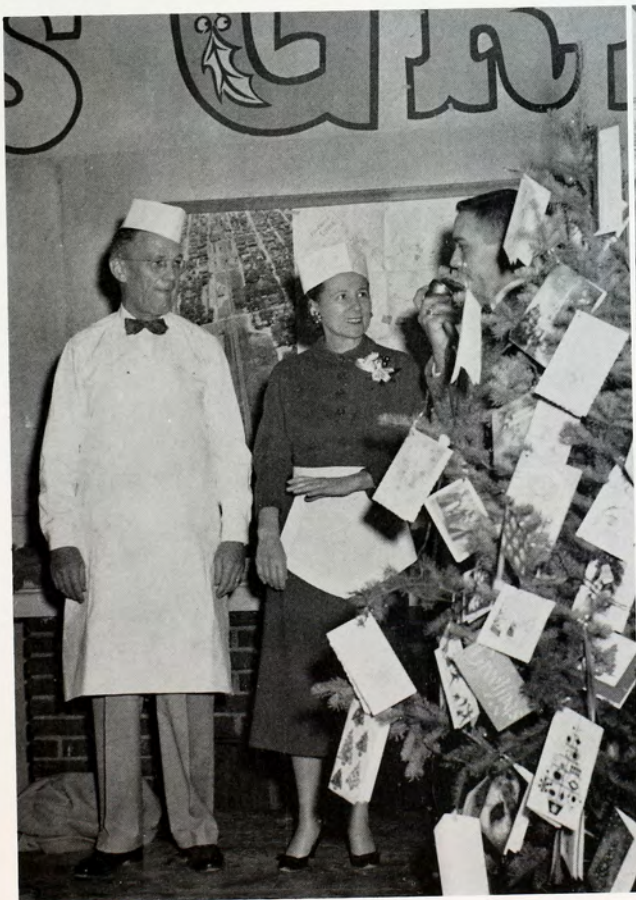

The Brass Choir prepares to play for the President's surprise Christmas party.

Students crowd the Social Building for that once-a-year-day when professors serve them free coffee.

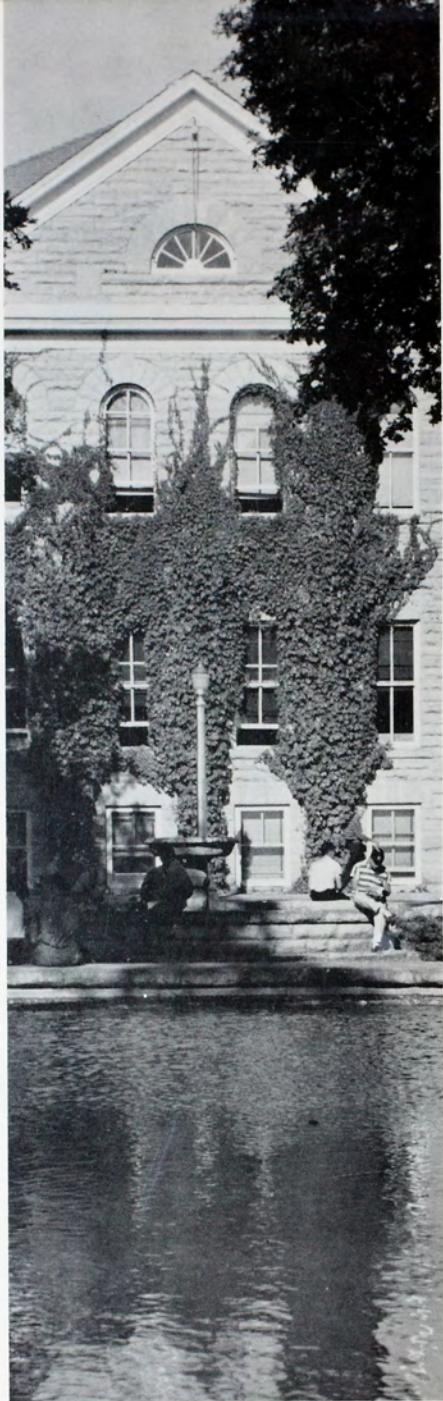

Playing Santa Claus, Milford Messer, president of the student body, presents Christmas greetings to the Cunninghams.

Happy birthday, Mrs. Cunningham.

Spring fever.

SPRING

Winter is over . . . the world moves outdoors and soaks up the sunshine, preparing for graduation and summer vacation . . . Faces gaze out the windows, and minds wander . . . Rehearsals are underway for the Follies . . . Spring formals fill the night with pastel net and black bow ties . . . It's Spring, 1958.

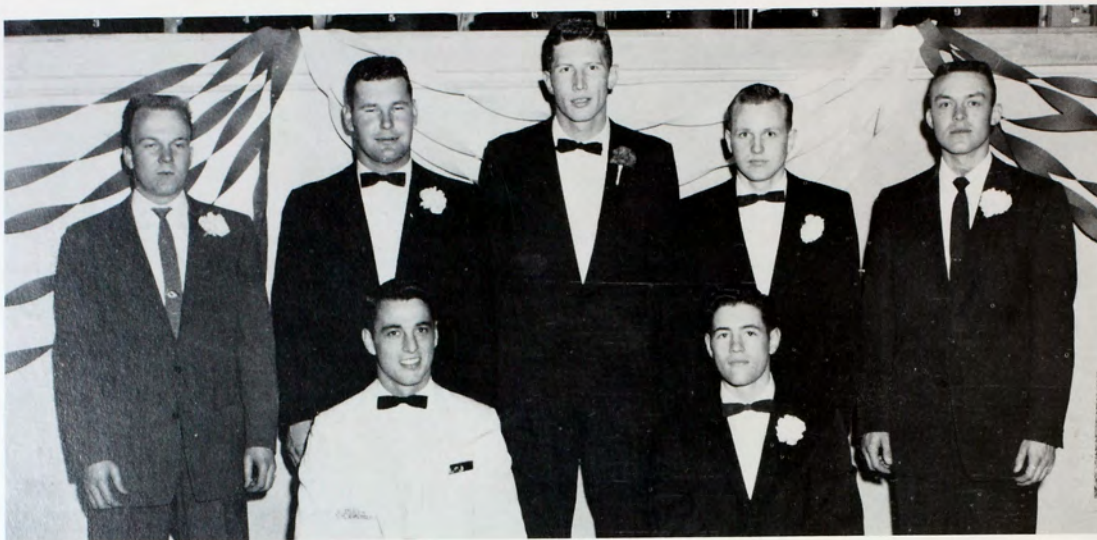

These student nurses in their starched white uniforms and caps are ready for a day at Hadley Hospital.

It's Friday, no more classes until Monday. At 3 p.m. students head for the Social Building and another T.G.I.F. dance.

An instructor and the commercial design class display the plates for the promotion material for the Memorial Union.

Workmen set up the new campus maps in readiness for spring visitors.

The Sweetheart King Candidates are: Ralph Hilmes, Sigma Tau Gamma; Walter Slipke, Pegis Club; Don Fraley, Sigma Epsilon; Tom Fellers, Residence Hall; Jerry Anderson, Delta Sigma Phi; Rex Mayer, Tau Kappa Epsilon; and Don Morehead, Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Smiling for the cameraman are the Sweetheart Queen Candidates: Jean Morrow, Custer Hall; Margaret Burditt, Pi Kappa Sigma; Connie Eaton, Theta Sigma Upsilon; Paula Schumacher, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Yvonne Smith, Agnew Hall; Verda Goetz, Delta Zeta; and Elaine Christian, Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Queen Jean smiles happily as Cade Suran crowns her.

Cade Suran places the crown on Don Fraley's head.

The Coliseum is dressed up in red and white for the annual Sweetheart Ball, February 14th, sponsored by the Social Committee.

SWEETHEART BALL

On Valentine's Day at the Sweetheart Ball Jean Morrow and Don Fraley are crowned Sweetheart King and Queen by Cade Suran, head basketball coach. Elaine Christian, Yvonne Smith, Don Morehead and Rex Mayer complete the royal court.

The Social Committee presents the Queen candidates boxes of candy and the King Candidates cuff links. The Queen receives a bouquet of red roses and the King receives a kiss.

A humorous skit is presented by the Delta Zetas.

Sunday marks the beginning of a week, well named, Rush Week. Despite the weather 76 rushees attend the teas of the five national sororities on campus, Theta Sigma Upsilon, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Pi Kappa Sigma, and Delta Zeta.

Members of Theta Sigma Upsilon become better acquainted with the rushees.

Actives happily greet the new Tri Sig pledges.

Delta Zeta Sorority entertains the rushees at their rush tea.

Rushees enjoy themselves at an Alpha rush party.

SORORITY RUSH

Rushees find fun and information at the first and second parties which begin Monday and end Saturday morning.

Tired and anxious sorority members and rushees observe quiet hours from Saturday noon until 2:30 p.m., Sunday, when 52 new pledges are greeted by their new "sisters." Rush Week is over, but Greek life has just begun.

Alpha Sigma Alpha entertains rushees with a mock television talent show.

Tri Sigs and rushees chat at the Sunday afternoon tea.

Rushees are served refreshments by Pi Kappa Sigma sorority.

Theta Sigma Upsilon members tell the advantages of Greek life.

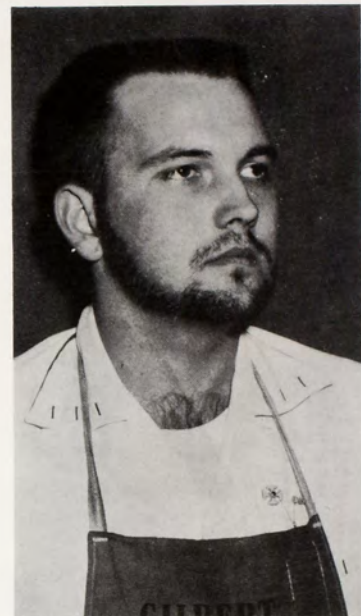

You are to provide the men with cigarettes.

'Twas a noble effort.

Open all doors for the men at all times.

Do not molest the men.

Even the best-laid plans sometimes go awry. These pages were to tell the story of the Leap Week dance, and the selection of Bearded Joe and Daisy Mae. The Follies tryouts were to be pictured, so you would have some record of the spring activities.

Instead, the wind blew, the snow came, and school closed. . . .

It's an unending job.

THE UNEXPECTED

Unnecessary warning.

There's a way out of anything.

We're snowed in.

Despite the snowdrifts some students must have coffee at the Social Building.

The United States Army to the rescue.

THE MEDIUM

The music department presents Gian-Carlo Menotti's opera "The Medium" February 24 and 25 in Picken Auditorium.

The Medium, Marthann Burris, orders Mr. and Mrs. Gobineau, Jerry Stafford and Nancy Fink, and Mrs. Alan, Betty Base, out of the house.

Madame Flora, Marthann Burris, kneels beside Toby, Loren Janzen, whom she has just shot.

Madame Flora, in a drunken stupor recalls the sins of her past.

In a rage Madame Flora, whips Toby.

Monica, Connie Spomer, comforts her mother while Toby accompanies her lullaby with a tambourine.

BILLY BUDD

Captain Veer, P. Weber, explains his decision to Billy Budd, B. Ohlemeier.

The Picken Players presented Melville's "Billy Budd" April 10th and 11th. Shown here are rehearsal scenes.

Jackson, K. Ruder, who is ill, explains to Jenkins, B. Young, why he shouldn't go aloft.

Billy Budd attempts to prevent Jenkins from knifing Claggart, G. Glick.

Officers discuss the case of Billy Budd at the court martial scene.

Sailors from HMS Indomitable in rank: G. Glick, J. Alderman, D. Morehead, D. Smith, B. Young, J. Harris, L. Prater, J. Gutshall and G. Mullen.

Fort Hays Song

by JACK JUERGENS

On the plains of Western Kansas stands a school we all love
In the years that lie before us let for see our lands many well 'twas built by the toil of our fathers' to its glory our voices needs thru the effort of new generations well go on to move noble swell.

deeds: Hail to old Fort Hays State Let your voices ring.

Praise for the black & gold we will ever sing Long may our union last thru the future days Honoring and praising Dear Fort Hays

FORT HAYS
KANSAS

Fort Hays Kansas State College

On June 23, 1902, Fort Hays Kansas State College held its first classes in buildings on historic old Fort Hays. The Military Reservation was divided into three parts—as a state college, as an agricultural experiment station, and as a state park. The land assigned to the college totalled 4,160 acres. The campus proper consists of about 80 acres.

From its beginning with 34 students, 2 faculty members, and 19 courses, Fort Hays State College has increased to more than 2,300 students, more than 125 faculty members, and more than 700 courses.

A spirited building program is exemplified in the Applied Arts Building, new dormitories for men and women, and the Memorial Student Union Building.

The Hays area and old Fort Hays is rich in tradition of the West. Fort Hays was a last outpost for General G. A. Custer before his fate in the Wyoming hills. Custer Hall, freshman women's dormitory on the campus, is named after Mrs. George Custer, also a resident at the Fort for a time.

Fort Hays State is rich in tradition—it carries this spirit with it in progress forward.
